For who

Cambodia has a mandatory visa requirement. This means that you cannot enter the country without a valid visa. The easiest way to meet this requirement is to apply for the visa online.

Applying for a Cambodia visa online is possible for:

- Travellers with British or Irish nationality
- Travellers of all ages (minors also need their own visa)
- Travellers with a tourist travel purpose
- Travellers that plan to stay in Cambodia for less than 30 days

Unlike most countries, your visa will only be checked upon arrival in Cambodia. If you applied for a visa at the last minute and have not received it by the time you depart, this does not necessarily pose a problem. However, you must have a valid visa to get through the passport control in Cambodia.

Requirements for the online application procedure

A number of restrictions apply to the visa variant that can be applied for online. This concerns the following aspects:

Arrival locations

The electronic visa for Cambodia can be used at the country's three main airports:

- Phnom Penh
- Siem Reap
- Sihanoukville

The electronic visa for Cambodia can be used at the country's four most frequented border crossings:

- Cham Yeam (Koh Kong)
- Poi Pet (Banteay Meanchey)
- Bavet (Svay Rieng)
- Tropaeng Kreal (Stung Treng)

Please note that if you applied for your visa online, you can only enter Cambodia at the seven locations listed above. Travellers arriving at other locations are not eligible for this type of visa and must acquire a physical visa at the embassy.

Apart from the above mentioned airports and border posts, you are also allowed to leave Cambodia at all other official border crossings. It is not necessary to know where and when you plan to leave the country at the moment you arrive.

Passport requirements for Cambodia

On arrival in Cambodia, each traveller's passport must have a minimum remaining validity of six months. If the passport does not have a residual validity of six months, entry will not be granted, even if a visa has been issued.

The Cambodia visa is only valid if used with the passport which was used to apply for it. This is because the passport number is indicated on the visa.

Print it twice

You will receive an email as soon as the Cambodia visa application is approved. This email will contain a link to your status page on e-visa.co.uk. The status page contains an overview of all travellers for whom a visa for Cambodia has been requested. Next to the traveller's name you will see whether the visa has been granted. As soon as this happens, you'll be able to download the visa using the button next to the traveller's name, in the overview.

Print twice each visa. You will need to hand in one printed copy on arrival. The visa may also be requested at a later time (e.g. when leaving Cambodia), so you should keep the second printed copy along with your passport in your hand luggage throughout your journey.

Validity

The Cambodia visa has a validity period of 90 days and a maximum stay of 30 days. The 90-day validity period starts as soon as the visa is granted. During this period, you are allowed to arrive in Cambodia. The 30-day authorised period of stay only starts upon arrival in Cambodia. You have the option to extend the maximum length of stay up to 60 days after arrival in Cambodia.

Summary

- The stay in Cambodia cannot last longer than 30 consecutive days. It is possible to extend it to 60 days)
- You must arrive in Cambodia within the 90-day visa validity period

How to apply

Applications for the Cambodian visa can be easily submitted online. The application form for the electronic Cambodia visa can be found at <https://e-visa.co.uk/cambodia>.
