For who

Cambodia has a mandatory visa requirement. This means that the country cannot be entered without a valid visa. The easiest way to meet this requirement is to apply for the visa online.

Applying for a Cambodia visa online is possible for:

- Travellers with British or Irish nationality
- Travellers of all ages (even minors need their own visa)
- Travellers with a tourist travel purpose
- Travellers that plan to stay in Cambodia for less than 30 days

In contrast to most countries, the visa check only takes place upon arrival in Cambodia. If you applied for a visa at the last minute and have not received it by the time of your departure, this does not necessarily pose a problem. However, you must have a valid visa to get through the passport control in Cambodia.

Requirements for the online application procedure

A number of restrictions apply to the visa variant that can be applied for online. This concerns the following aspects:

Arrival locations

The electronic visa for Cambodia can be used at the country's three main airports:

- Phnom Penh
- Siem Reap
- Sihanoukville

The electronic visa for Cambodia can be used at the country's four most used border crossings:

- Cham Yeam (Koh Kong)
- Poi Pet (Banteay Meanchey)
- Bavet (Svay Rieng)
- Tropaeng Kreal (Stung Treng)

Take note: if you applied for your visa online, you can only enter Cambodia at the above listed seven locations. Travellers arriving elsewhere are not eligible for this type of visa and must acquire a physical visa by visiting the embassy.

Apart from the airports and border posts mentioned above, leaving Cambodia is also allowed at all other official border crossings. It is not necessary to know on arrival where and when you plan to leave the country.

Passport requirements for Cambodia

The passport of each traveller must have a minimum remaining validity of six months at the time of arrival in Cambodia. If the passport is not valid for at least six more months, entry will not be granted, even if a visa has been issued.

The Cambodia visa is only valid if used in conjunction with the passport which was used to obtain it. This is because the passport number is indicated on the visa.

Print it twice

Once the visa application for Cambodia is approved, an e-mail is sent to the person who submitted the application. This e-mail contains a link to the status page on e-Visa.co.uk. The status page contains an overview of all travellers who have applied for a visa for Cambodia in a single application form. You can see whether the visa has been granted next to the name of the traveller. If it has been granted, the visa can be downloaded by using the download button next to the name in the overview.

It is very important that each visa is printed twice. Each traveller is required to hand in one printed copy of the visa on arrival. As the visa may be asked for at a later stage (e.g. when leaving Cambodia), the second printout of the same visa must be kept in your hand luggage during the entire journey.

Validity

The Cambodia visa has a validity period of 90 days and a maximum length of stay of 30 days. This may require some explanation. At the time of applying, you will be asked for an expected arrival date. The validity period starts 30 days before that (if the visa is applied for in time). This means that the traveller may arrive in Cambodia 30 days earlier than the expected arrival date stated in the application form. As the validity period is 90 days and the maximum length of stay is 30 days, it is also possible to arrive in Cambodia 30 days later. Even then, 30 days of the 90 days remain and the maximum stay of 30 days can be used without problems.

Summarized

- The stay in Cambodia cannot last longer than 30 consecutive days
- The entire stay must fall within the overall 90-day validity of the visa
